

Jesus in the Air

FOR CHURCH LEADERS / MINISTRY SETTINGS

A serious, compassionate novel of a soldier's homecoming and a day in the company of Jesus.

OVERVIEW

"I meet Jesus on the day I get home from the war."

Warren Pease, a young Army sniper newly home from Iraq, carries the weight of combat, broken trust, and old losses that never healed cleanly. On a dark New Hampshire beach, he meets Jesus, who says to call him Ray. Through a single day, he stays close as Warren returns to the relationships he damaged and encounters mercy he does not yet know how to receive.

Tender, gritty, and spiritually searching, Jesus in the Air is a character-driven novel about faith, guilt, love, forgiveness, and the grace of being met where you are.
